RTC to Launch ACEXpress, ACE Gold Line Rapid Transit Services

Commuting will be faster and easier with the launch of two new rapid transit services in the valley. The Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada (RTC) will debut the new ACE and ACEXpress rapid transit services on March 28. The ACEXpress C-Line and ACE Gold Line will both provide commuter-friendly transit service that mimics the service of a light rail system. Both the ACE Gold Line and ACEXpress C-Line will feature sleek, train-like hybrid vehicles and Ticket Now boarding. Ticket Now speeds up the boarding process by allowing passengers to purchase fares at ticket vending machines located at transit stops along the routes.

The ACEXpress C-Line will provide an express transit route that will begin at the RTC's new Centennial Hills Transit Center and Park & Ride facility at U.S. 95 and Durango Drive. From there, the line will provide an express connection to Downtown Las Vegas utilizing the high-occupancy-vehicle (carpool) lanes along U.S. 95. The ACEXpress C-Line will then continue on to the Las Vegas Strip and to the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. The route will be ideal for commuters and students.

The ACE Gold Line will provide a rapid transit connection between Downtown Las Vegas, the Las Vegas Convention Center, the Las Vegas Strip and the RTC's South Strip Transfer Terminal. ACE Gold Line features dedicated transit lanes in Downtown and level-platform boarding.

The RTC is hosting two grand opening events to launch the new services:
